4.3 "Do Not Track" (DNT) and Universal Opt-Out Preference Signals

Some web browsers incorporate a "Do Not Track" (DNT) or similar feature that signals to web services that a visitor does not want to have their online activity and behavior tracked. If a web service operator elects to respond to a particular DNT signal, the web service operator may refrain from collecting certain personal information about the browser's user. Not all browsers offer a DNT option and there is currently no industry consensus as to what constitutes a DNT signal. For these reasons, many web service operators, including CO Sales Tax Assistance's, do not proactively respond to DNT signals. For more information about DNT signals, visit https://fpf.org/thank-you-for-visiting-allaboutdnt-com/.

Universal Opt-Out Mechanisms, such as the Global Privacy Control (GPC), allow users with GPC-enabled browsers and devices to send a signal communicating the user's request to opt out of the sale and sharing of their personal information. The California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020, Cal. Civ. Code § 1798.100 et seq. (the "CCPA"), and its implementing regulations (Cal. Code Regs. tit. 11, § 7025), as well as certain other state privacy laws, require businesses to treat such Opt-Out Preference Signals as valid requests to opt out of the sale or sharing of personal information. If we detect and recognize such a signal from your device or browser, we will honor it.
